

SmartMan in Orlando, February 2017

High quality CPR with advanced simulation features stand SmartMan apart.

SmartMan brings world's best practice at a reasonable price to CPR Training.

Simulations Integrated with Advanced Physical Response

IMSH show cases many advanced simulators for a broad range of medical training. It is reassuring to know that SmartMan offers the most accurate sensors with life like interaction in the CPR end of the market.

SmartMan brings advanced simulations that relate skills performance with the condition of the patient. Students see what effect they are having on the patient. This is both a great incentive to perform well and it provides deep understanding as to why their performance quality matters.

Giving People Time to Explore

SmartMan had a dedicated suite at the show. This gave people who were interested the time and comfort to explore in detail the special features of SmartMan products. It is quality one-on-one time to ask questions and practice on our advanced simulators.

Thank you to everyone who spent time with us.

www.smartman.biz